Q: MySQL query, between one to many My query is like `select * from table1 left join table2 on table1.action_id=table2.id` but table2 has many rows and if I have no `action_id` that satisfies this query, the whole table gets returned, which is a problem. I've tried this query instead: `select * from table1 left join table2 on table1.action_id=table2.id and (table1.action_id is NULL or table2.id is null)` but I still get the same results. Is there a better way to do this? i.e. no rows returned if no matching row in table2? A: The solution is `select * from table1 left join table2 on table1.action_id=table2.id where table2.id is not null`
